Honorable Chief Justice J. A. Turnage Montana Supreme Court

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS CHIEF JUSTICE J. A. TURNAGE March 2, 1999

Speaker Mercer, President Crippen, leaders of the Democrat and Republican parties of the House and Senate, members and staff of the 56th Legislature, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen:

Thank you very much for the privilege to address this joint session of the 56th Legislative Assembly. I appreciate having this opportunity to share with you some highlights of Montana's judiciary--its workload, accomplishments and concerns. We take pride in our accomplishments this past biennium and look forward to continued achievements in the years ahead--in many of which you will have a part in setting the course and direction in your deliberations this session.

I know you can hardly wait to hear about the judicial statistics; however, unless you have some information about where we have been, you will not appreciate where we should be going.

My report on statistics will probably remind you of the two parishioners in the small country church in Missouri. They had just listened to the preacher deliver a lengthy sermon. One parishioner asked the other what he thought of the sermon. His friend replied, "It was the truth poorly told."

As you know, Montana's court system is comprised of three constitutionally-required levels. Today, I would like to take a few minutes to speak about the courts comprising each level.

The Justice of the Peace Courts, City Courts and Municipal Courts, known as courts of limited jurisdiction, are most likely the courts with which Montana's citizens will have contact. These "people's courts" have jurisdiction over traffic offenses, small claims, and misdemeanor criminal offenses.

Currently, sixty-two men and forty-seven women serve as justices and judges of the courts of limited jurisdiction. Much like yours, their backgrounds are diverse--a few are attorneys, but others have many varied occupations. Some serve full time and some part time. All, however, share a commitment and dedication to performing their duties diligently, fairly and without preconceptions and prejudice. In 1998, 302,221 cases were filed in the courts of limited jurisdiction across the state. Obviously, we are fortunate to have hardworking and devoted justices and judges at this level to keep abreast with such busy and everincreasing work loads.

The second level of courts are Montana's District Courts. There are twenty-one judicial districts in the state, and the total number of judges sitting in these districts is thirty-seven. District Courts are courts of general jurisdiction—they handle criminal cases, dissolutions of marriage, property and contract disputes, probates and estates, and other filings as well as appeals from the courts of limited jurisdiction.

Montana is fortunate to have a long-serving, dedicated, highly-professional district court bench. The men and women serving as district judges are regularly confronted with complicated issues and difficult decisions in our ever-changing society. Their experience and knowledge acquired over the years, as well as their integrity and devotion to their duties, serve all Montanans well.

In 1998, there were approximately 34,669 filings in the State's district courts. The number of cases filed continue to rise year after year, and there has not been an increase in the number of district judges serving the state since 1991. You have an opportunity to help us out in this regard--but more about that later.

The legislature has also created two other courts--the Workers' Compensation Court and the Water Court. Although not courts created by the Constitution, these courts perform very important functions for the people of Montana.

Finally, the next level of court in our judicial system is the Supreme Court. By law, the Montana Supreme Court must accept jurisdiction over all appeals taken from judgments entered in the district courts. It has no discretion in deciding which appeals to accept and consider. The Supreme Court also must review applications and petitions to the Court seeking its original jurisdiction--supervisory control, habeas corpus and declaratory judgment, to name a few. In 1998, 731 new cases were filed with the Supreme Court. In addition, the Court must address thousands of motions each year--some of which are relatively minor, such as a motion for an extension of time to file a brief, but some of which are extremely important, such as staying the execution of a death sentence. All, however, require the time and careful attention of the Court.

In addition to its duties in addressing the cases before it, the Supreme Court is also given, under Article VII, Section 2(3) of the Montana Constitution, the duty to "make rules governing appellate procedure, practice and procedure for all other courts, admission to the bar and the conduct of its members." In this regard, the Court has various boards, commissions and other entities whose work is vital, not only to the smooth operation of the judiciary, but to all Montana citizens.

The disciplinary responsibilities of the Supreme Court are initially handled by the Commission on Practice and the Judicial Standards Commission. These commissions are the avenues for our citizens to file ethical grievances against attorneys and judges. In the last two years, the Supreme Court and Commission on Practice have disciplined fifty-seven attorneys, four of whom were disbarred from the practice of law.

The Commission on Courts of Limited Jurisdiction planned and conducted two mandatory training conferences for Justices of the Peace, City Court Judges and Municipal Court Judges in the past year which totaled over 42 hours of education. Each of the newly-elected and re-elected judges of courts of limited jurisdiction was required to attend the fall certification conference which includes a proficiency test on detailed law-related questions which each judge must pass for certification.

The Court's advisory commissions on rules of appellate and civil procedure, rules of evidence, and criminal and civil jury instruction guidelines are also permanent commissions which periodically recommend to the Court for its consideration proposed changes to the rules of procedure under which our entire court system operates.

In addition to permanent committees, since I last addressed you the Supreme Court has appointed and received recommendations from three specially-created committees.

An advisory commission on rules for admission to the bar of Montana was appointed to study bar admission requirements in the state. Following the commission's recommendations to the Court and a public comment period, the Supreme Court adopted significant changes in its procedures and rules for admission to the Montana Bar--the most noteworthy of which is the elimination of any waiver provisions within the rules, thereby making the passing of the Montana bar examination mandatory for anyone wishing to practice law in the state.

A second study committee appointed by the Court was charged with the task of developing and recommending to the Supreme Court standards regarding the competency of counsel appointed to represent indigent persons in capital cases, both at the trial and appellate levels. This committee, comprised of one district judge, two prosecuting attorneys and two defense attorneys, submitted its Proposed Competency Standards to the Court in November, and a public comment period on the proposals is now being allowed. The Court anticipates that these standards, if adopted, will result in more effective representation for the accused in death penalty cases, in long-term savings in the costs of prosecution and defense of capital cases, and in more efficient and economic uses of the scarce and overburdened resources of the courts and the criminal justice system.

Since the last biennial report, the Supreme Court created a commission to make recommendations concerning an intermediate appellate court. The commission recognized the need for some form of intermediate appellate procedures. The Supreme Court has recommended the introduction of Senate Bill 443 which I will mention further in this report.

The Office of the Supreme Court Administrator has under its direction other programs designed to promote the efficient administration of certain areas of the judiciary.

Automation of the Montana court system has taken a much needed step forward. All fifty-six district courts have been provided hardware and software to automate case management. In 1998, 98 of the 109 judges of the courts of limited jurisdiction were trained and equipped to operate their courts using case management software. The judiciary has joined a collaborative effort with executive branch agencies to integrate judicial information for increased public safety. This integration allows for faster and more accurate exchange of court case information with the Departments of Justice and Corrections. District court automation also has provided an expedient method of relaying child support orders in divorce actions to the Child Support Enforcement Division as mandated by statute.

The Local Citizen Review Boards, a program statutorily assigned to the Judiciary, is currently active in three judicial districts within the state. The review boards are composed of volunteer citizens who review foster care placements made by the Department of Public Health and Human Services and make recommendations they believe will move these children to permanent placement as quickly as possible. Since the inception of this program, Missoula has recognized a 27 percent decrease in the number of youths in foster care. These boards have made and are continuing to make a difference in the lives of Montana's children with the involvement of their local communities. It is a most important program and critical to the lives of children in foster care.

Another major program which is the responsibility of the Court is the Court Assessment Program, relating to children who are victims of abuse and neglect with a focus on safety, permanency and stability in those children's lives. This program proposed legislation to incorporate the federal requirements of the Adoption and Safe Families Act into state law. Another proposal was to include district court expenses in abuse and neglect cases as eligible for reimbursement from the present District Court Criminal Reimbursement Program. This is a very beneficial program for the safety and well-being of children.

A very important program to all of the counties of Montana and the county taxpayers is the District Court Criminal Reimbursement Program. This program was enacted in the 1985 legislature, and in calendar year 1998 this program reimbursed the counties of Montana and the taxpayers therein in the total amount of $5,383,536 for criminal expenses incurred in the counties.

The Supreme Court is also responsible for the administration of the legislatively-created Sentence Review Division, composed of three sitting district judges. The Sentence Review Division hears petitions of prisoners sentenced to the state prisons who ask for review of their sentences. The Division heard 127 cases in 1998 and it has authority to increase, decrease or, in certain circumstances, modify a prison commitment.

In addition this year, the Montana Judges' Association, whose membership comprises the District Court Judges and Supreme Court Justices, has been actively working to increase the efficiency of the court system. The District Court Judges' Benchbook, used as a guidebook for procedures in the District Court, was updated and reprinted. This project, led by District Judge Thomas A. Olson of Bozeman, offers an inexpensive but effective way to encourage uniformity and consistency in district courts throughout the state.

The full 1998 Annual Report of the Montana Judiciary will be furnished to you soon.

I would like to thank those men and women who contribute their time, talent and professionalism to make the Supreme Court boards and commissions the vital, working, entities that are so necessary--not only to the bench and bar, but, most importantly, to the people of this state. Many of the members of these essential commissions are attorneys who are unpaid and unrecognized for their generous contributions to the citizens of the state. Others are lay members who generously give of their time and talents. Montana's judiciary is extremely fortunate to have such giving, unselfish citizens to work for its betterment. They all deserve our gratitude and thanks.

The continued effective administration of the many duties of Montana's judiciary, courts at all levels, would not be possible without the professional and dedicated service of all of the courts' personnel in all levels. The Supreme Court would not possibly be able to process the 731 cases filed in 1998 without the dedication and hard work of its limited number of staff personnel.

I turn now to pending matters before you which can have a profound effect upon Montana's judiciary.

It can be said that almost all of the bills that you consider and pass during the legislative sessions affect the judiciary. Why? Because it is the duty of the courts to enforce the statutes you enact. There are, however, certain legislative bills and resolutions that directly affect the well-being of Montana's judiciary, and I would like to take this opportunity to briefly address a few of them.

There are two important bills in this legislature relating to the continued funding of our statewide court automation and case management system. I trust that you will agree that in 1999 and future years the judiciary could not function without an adequate and functioning computerized data base system for the courts. The present funding for the installation and continued maintenance and support of the system is based upon a five dollar charge on most court filings. House Bill 41 and House Bill 104 provide a continuation of this source of funding. Such funding is critical to the automation program and provides for the installation and maintenance of such services in all of the counties in the state without cost to the local taxpayers. The judicial automation system has solved in house the Y2K problem.

Senate Bill 273 provides for a new judicial district and the addition of one judge, which district would be composed of the Counties of Big Horn, Carbon and Stillwater to be taken from the present Thirteenth Judicial District, Yellowstone County. The bill also provides for an additional district judge in the Eleventh Judicial District in Flathead County, and an additional district judge in the Twentieth Judicial District composed of Sanders and Lake County. There is no question but that the case load statistics support these additional judicial resources if timely and efficient administration of justice is to be continued in these areas.

Senate Bill 60 provides for the district court judges to appoint standing masters with the approval of the county commissioners. The ever-increasing load of family law cases that require an inordinate amount of time of district judges require such improvement in our judicial system. Your support of this bill is important.

Another very important bill to the judiciary is Senate Bill 443 that provides for the creation of an intermediate appellate court. The model of this bill is taken from the State of Nebraska. The ever-increasing appellate case load creates an excessive demand upon the time of the Court to process effectively large, complex and controversial cases of great consequence to the people of Montana. All cases require careful and deliberative processing by the Court. Most of our states provide for some form of intermediate appellate court panel. Montana needs such legislation. I urge that you carefully consider and support this proposal.

A startling development throughout our court system is the huge increase in the number of pro se litigants. With the cuts in funding for legal services at the federal level, more and more citizens will be using our courts without the assistance of a lawyer. Legal service agencies have been nearly wiped out by budget cuts and restrictions adopted in Washington, D.C. For all practical purposes, legal services is now the responsibility of the states.

Montana should give a helping hand to the many low income people who are standing alone in the dark at the bottom of the courthouse stairs. They must have access to justice. I urge you not to exclude them. Justice will come when those of us who have never been injured, deprived or silenced become as committed and concerned as those who have.

In considering the costs that may be involved in some of this legislation, I would like to comment that of the state's budget of an approximate 4.5 billion dollars for the biennium, the percentage of this amount for the judicial budget is .35 percent for the biennium--certainly not an excessive amount for a branch of Montana's government that is co-equal with the Legislative and Executive branches.

Our civil courts underpin our economy and way of life. They mirror and help develop positive changes in the economic, technological, ideological and moral conditions of society. They yield benefits far greater than those accruing to the litigants alone. For example, landmark cases represent turning points in law and social attitudes. Nonlitigants order their affairs by the results of these cases.

To those injured on the job or by a defective product, to victims of negligence, to those evicted unfairly, to defenders of our waterways against chemical dumping, to small businesses fending off monopolistic practices, to people with a grievance against their government, to abandoned children who need adoption or protective care, to farmers, ranchers and shop owners fighting to keep their properties and their doors open in difficult times, to those discriminated against on the basis of race, age, sex, religion, disability or other unlawful reasons, our civil courts represent the fulfillment of the basic need for fairness and justice.

When a young mother goes into a busy court to obtain an order that will protect her and her children from an abusive mate, she doesn't distinguish between the law enacted by the legislature and the judge who administers it. In her view, it is one system. Either the law works and she is protected, or the law doesn't work and she and her children remain in danger.

Montana's judiciary strives to deliver an independent justice system that carefully considers the rights and obligations of our citizens, and promptly renders impartial decisions free of outside influences or pressures. The system cannot survive without the trust and confidence of those its serves.

Fourteen years have passed since I first spoke to this honorable assembly as the Chief Justice of the Montana Supreme Court. In those fourteen years, we all have seen much change. The public no longer must rely on the media for information--with a simple click of a mouse, Supreme Court opinions are available to any one connected to the Internet, as are all the bill drafts, amendments and enactments you must consider. The judiciary has done its best to keep pace in our ever-changing times. It needs your support to continue to do so. Your deliberations and actions in the next few weeks will set the course and direction for the future progress of the court system.

On behalf of the Bar of Montana, it must be noted that without the members of the Bar, who deliver professional and competent services to the people of Montana, our Constitution, statutory law, and bills that you are presently passing, would not be implemented and enforced. The Constitution and statutory law of this State are not self-executing. The safeguards to the safety, liberties and property of our citizens would derive no benefit from our laws without competent, dedicated courts and members of the Bar that see to their fair and impartial implementation.

This has been true since the Magna Carta of June 15, 1215--and notwithstanding some jests about lawyers. One I recall as a cartoon, which I believe would have been created about the year 1750, depicting the "lawsuit milk cow." In the cartoon there was a picture of a milk cow, the ownership of which was the subject of litigation between two farmers. One of the farmers had a rope around the cow's horns and was tugging on the rope in that direction, and the other farmer had the cow by the tail and was pulling her in that direction. Each farmer had an attorney, each of whom was sitting on a pile of law books on either side of the cow--vigorously milking her.

I know that for many of you, this will be your last session and, perhaps, the most difficult. Your years of service to the State of Montana and its citizens, and in particular your continued willingness to listen to and respond to our concerns during your terms, is appreciated.

On a personal note, this will be the last time that I am privileged to deliver to a joint session of the House and Senate on behalf of Montana's judiciary a State of the Judiciary Address.

I will not seek reelection in 2000 as Chief Justice of the Montana Supreme Court.

I am deeply appreciative and humbled by having been honored by the people of Montana for electing me to important public offices in all three branches of the government--Executive, Legislative, and Judicial-since the June primary of 1952, forty-seven years ago.

My public service commenced in 1944 when I enlisted in the Army Air Force. I was elected Lake County Attorney for five terms starting in 1952. In 1962 I was elected as State Representative and in 1964 as State Senator from Lake County, where I served for twenty years. In 1984 I was elected for an eight-year term as Chief Justice of the Montana Supreme Court and re-elected for an eight-year term in November 1992, which term ends in December 2000. It is time to bring to closure the forty-eight years of public service I have been permitted to serve. It has been a great privilege and personal satisfaction to have served in public office all of these years.

Thank you again for allowing me the opportunity of addressing you today.

Supreme Court Justices

JEAN A. TURNAGE

Chief Justice. Born March 10, 1926, in St. Ignatius, Montana. Served in the U.S. Air Corps from 1944-46. Received his J.D. from the University of Montana in 1951. Elected Lake County Attorney in 1953 and was re-elected to office four times. Elected to the Montana House of Representatives in 1962 and to the Montana State Senate in 1964, where he served continuously until he assumed the office of Chief Justice on January 7, 1985. Chief Justice Turnage and his wife, Eula Mae, are the parents of two children.

KARLA M. GRAY

Justice. Born May 10, 1947, in Escanaba, Michigan. Received both her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Western Michigan University and received her J.D. from Hastings College of Law in San Francisco, California in 1976. Prior to her appointment to the bench on February 11, 1991, Justice Gray worked as a staff attorney and lobbyist for the Montana Power Company in Butte, Montana. Justice Gray is married to Myron Currie.

WILLIAM E. HUNT, SR.

Justice. Born February 28, 1923, in Tacoma, Washington. Moved to Montana in 1945. Received his J.D. from the University of Montana in 1955. Prior to election to the bench in 1984, he engaged in general practice of law and served as Deputy County Attorney in Hill County and as County Attorney in Liberty County. Justice Hunt also served as the director of the Montana Aeronautics Commission from 1970-1975, and served as the first Workers' Compensation Court Judge from 1975-1981. Justice Hunt and his wife, Mary, are the parents of five children.

JAMES C. NELSON

Justice. Born February 20, 1944, in Moscow, Idaho. Received a B.S. degree from the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho, in 1966. Received his J.D. from George Washington University in 1974. Justice Nelson served as First Lieutenant in the U.S. Army from 1966-1969. Justice Nelson worked as a financial analyst with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission prior to engaging in private practice in Montana. He was in private practice and serving as Glacier County Attorney at the time of his appointment to the Supreme Court in May of 1993. Justice Nelson and his wife, Chari, are the parents of two children.

TERRY N. TRIEWEILER

Justice. Born March 21, 1948, in Dubuque, Iowa. Received both his Bachelor's degree and J.D. from Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa. Justice Trieweiler worked in private practice in Whitefish until 1990, when he began serving as an instructor of civil procedure at the University of Montana School of Law. He was elected to the Montana Supreme Court in 1990. Justice Trieweiler and his wife, Carol, are the parents of three children.

Justice. Born December 3, 1946, in Butte, Montana. Attended Whitman College, 1965-66, and the University of Montana, 1966-69. Received a B.A. in Liberal Arts in 1969 and LL.M in 1972 from the University of Montana School of Law. Engaged in general practice of law for twenty-one years with his father, C.W. Leaphart, prior to being elected to the bench in January of 1995. Justice Leaphart and his wife, Barbara, are the parents of three children.

TAMES M. REGNIER

Justice. Born July 22, 1944, in Aurora, Illinois. Received a Bachelor's degree from Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in 1966. Upon graduation, he was commissioned an officer in the U.S. Navy and served aboard an ammunition ship and an ocean tanker. After his Navy service, Justice Regnier entered the University of Illinois, College of Law, where he obtained his J.D. in 1973. As a practicing attorney, he represented a wide variety of clients, including representing claimants, insurance companies, and self-insured employers in workers' compensation matters. Prior to being elected to the bench in January of 1997, Justice Regnier had shifted his energies to mediation. Justice Regnier and his wife, Linda, have three children.

Clerk of the Supreme Court

The Clerk of the Supreme Court is a sworn public servant, who, historically, by constitutional and statutory authority, controls the filings and provides the public with access to the Supreme Court. The Clerk also serves as the custodian of all legal records and documents for the Court and the public. The Clerk of the Supreme Court transacts all of the business for the Court, making the office the structural hub around which the judicial process revolves. Since 1865, when the Clerk of the Supreme Court was established in this state, the office has served as the direct link between the public and the Supreme Court. The Clerk ultimately controls the flow of information to and from the Court while assisting the Court, the legal community and the public in processing appeals and original proceedings from the early filing stages through final disposition. The Clerk is elected on a partisan ballot in a statewide election to a six-year term.

The current Clerk of the Supreme Court is Ed Smith of Helena, who is serving his second term. Prior to his election, Smith worked for the Montana Legislature and the Constitutional Convention from 1969 to 1987, serving four sessions as the Chief Clerk of the Montana House of Representatives and also holding the position of Chief Bill Clerk of the United States House of Representatives. He is a graduate of the University of Montana, where he was a teaching assistant.

Primary responsibilities of the Office of the Clerk are specified in Montana statutes and consist of the management of all Supreme Court appeals and petitions for the various writs, including writs of supervisory control, habeas corpus and mandamus, which are filed with the Court. The office also provides the Court with a monthly status report of pending cases.

Other duties include appellate mediation administration, the preparation of court and oral argument minutes, collecting the annual attorney license tax for more than 3,600 attorneys, and maintaining the roll of Montana attorneys.

The Clerk has three staff positions, consisting of one deputy clerk and two assistant clerks. The office has remained the same size since 1979 and has added no additional staff since the Supreme Court was enlarged to seven justices in 1981 to handle the increasing caseload.

Calendar year 1998 was another busy year for the Supreme Court. The Clerk's office docketed 731 cases, which resulted in over 34,000 transactions being handled. During fiscal year 1998 the office collected $198,061 in fees and revenues for the state. This amount comprised $39,483 in court fees, $66,903 in bar administration and examination fees, and $91,675 in attorney license taxes.

Filings carried over from 1997	532	Opinions issued by five-member panel - after submission on briefs	26
New Civil Filings	480	Opinions issued by all seven justices - after submission on briefs	4
New Criminal Filings	251	Opinions issued by all 7 justices - after oral arguments	3

Office of the Court Administrator

Prior to 1975, court administration was handled by the Chief Justice. The Supreme Court established the Office of the Court Administrator (OCA) in 1975 to assist the Court with administrative duties. The office was recommended in a study of the judicial system by the Board of Crime Control in 1975 and authorized by the legislature in 1977 (§3-1-701, MCA). The current Court Administrator is Patrick A. Chenovick of Helena, who has served the Court since appointment February 3, 1993. Prior to his appointment as Court Administrator he served as Chief Financial Officer and Assistant Court Administrator.

3-1-701 Duties. The court administrator is the administrative officer of the court. Under the direction of the supreme court, the court administrator shall:

- 1) prepare and present the judicial budget requests to the legislature;
- 2) collect, compile, and report statistical and other data relating to the business transacted by the courts and provide the information to the legislature on request;
- 3) recommend to the supreme court improvements in the judiciary;
- 4) administer state funding for district courts as provided in Chapter 5, Part 9, MCA; and
- 5) perform other duties that the supreme court may assign.

Other duties under part (5) include supporting the boards and commissions that are attached to the Supreme Court, arranging certification and training for judges, participating in clerks of district court conferences and implementing statewide judicial automation. The OCA provides the Court with an administrative arm to oversee essential operations and daily tasks for the Court and the people of Montana. As the legislature enacts new statutes, the role of the court also evolves and its need for the administrative office expands.

Judicial Automation - Montana Judicial Case Management System and Montana Limited Jurisdiction Case Management System

In 1998 the automation team of the OCA coordinated, installed, trained, and maintained automation systems in 55 district courts and 98 courts of limited jurisdiction. Twenty-six court sites are networked so that users can take advantage of shared resources. Connecting 56 district courts to SummitNet allowed district courts to become information providers through a statewide central repository of court information. This central repository will provide needed information to various entities including the Departments of Justice and Corrections. The central repository will also supply the Department of Public Health and Human Services (DPHHS), Child Support Enforcement Division, information required per Senate Bill (SB) 357 about child support orders.

The Automation Program receives approximately 25 to 35 calls for assistance from these automated courts on a weekly basis. The automation of Montana courts is an evolutionary process that provides tools to allow courts to perform constitutional and statutory duties.

Court Assessment Program

The Court Assessment Program has been an impetus for change in Montana's court system as it relates to children who are victims of abuse and neglect. Nationally, delays in the court process have contributed significantly to lack of permanency and stability in children's lives. For that reason, Congress funded state court improvement projects to assess individual state court systems, make recommendations, and implement improvements to the court system based on those recommendations. The projects were directed to spend two years on the assessment portion and two years on the implementation portion. Prior to the end of the grant period, Congress recognized that projects required more than two years to effectively implement systemic changes. The grants were renewed for three more years subject to states providing matching funds.

Montana's grant period began June of 1995. The two-year assessment portion of the Court Assessment Program concluded that change was necessary in Montana's court system to provide greater permanency for children. The following two years were dedicated to implementing the recommendations of the Court Assessment Program's Advisory Committee that were based on the initial assessment. Implementation of the recommendations have brought child abuse and neglect issues to the forefront and has been the beginning of effective change. The additional grant period will allow the program to further implement the recommendations, to address changes in the court and child welfare system, and to evaluate the success or failure of those changes so that the court system can best meet the needs of children while protecting the integrity and rights of parents. Accordingly, the OCA has asked the 1999 Legislature to provide matching funds required to receive the additional three years of federal funding.

In 1998, the Court Assessment Program drafted proposed legislation to: 1) incorporate the federal requirements of the Adoption and Safe Families Act into state law; and 2) include district court expenses in abuse and neglect cases as eligible expenses for reimbursement from the Supreme Court's District Court Criminal Reimbursement Program. In addition, the Program established a pilot mediation project to provide a less adversarial procedure for resolution of child protection cases. Staff plans to sponsor advanced mediation training in this area of law in the Spring of 1999. Program staff taught a child advocacy law class at the University of Montana School of Law and worked with Gallatin County to develop model procedures and practice in child protection cases.

The Program established Court Appointed Special Advocate/Guardian Ad Litem (CASA/Gal) of Montana, a statewide organization, to support local lay advocate guardian ad litem programs. The Program also assisted the Cascade County Law Clinic in the development of the Parents' Assistance Program. Staff organized and facilitated discussion on practice and procedures in child protection cases at the County Attorney's conference and is working with the Department of Justice to acquire additional staff attorneys to assist the county attorneys in child protection cases.

The Court Assessment Program looks forward to working with its advisory committee to continue its efforts in court improvement.

Citizen Review Board Program

The 1993 Montana Legislature passed a bill establishing the Local Citizen Review Board Pilot Program (CRB). The legislature was concerned that reviews conducted by DPHHS Foster Care Review Committees were not objective because reviewers were not independent. Citizen Review Boards perform impartial case reviews of placements independent of DPHHS. During the 1993 Special Legislative Session, the Program was attached to the Montana Supreme Court.

Board members were recruited and trained, and the Fourth Judicial District in Missoula was chosen as the first program pilot site. Citizen Review Boards are currently operational in three judicial districts: the Fourth Judicial District (Missoula and Mineral Counties); the Second Judicial District (Butte Silver Bow County); and the Eighteenth Judicial District (Gallatin County).

Accomplishments of the Citizen Review Boards

The volunteers appointed to CRB's contribute their time, effort, and talents by serving on the boards. In 1997, volunteers in the three districts donated approximately 1,455 hours in review and advocacy. This figure excludes preparation and training time. If volunteer service were calculated into dollars at $10 per hour, it means the dollar value to the State of Montana would exceed $14,550. Citizen Review Boards are a prime example of volunteerism.

Citizen Review Boards have held 1,830 case reviews since the program began in 1994. Missoula Review Boards have held 1,291 reviews since December 1994; Butte Review Boards have held 375 reviews since December 1995; and the Bozeman Review Board has held 164 reviews since June 1996. Citizen Review Boards have tracked over 590 individual children in foster care. In calendar year 1997, CRB's, along with DPHHS and the district courts, resolved 117 cases; 61 of those were adopted or returned home.

Another major accomplishment is the movement of children toward permanency. The average number of days a child was under a Temporary Investigative Authority Order has been reduced from 332 days in calendar year 1995, to 132 days in calendar year 1997. The average number of days a child was under a Temporary Legal Custody Order has been reduced from 497 days in calendar year 1995, to 165 days in calendar year 1997. Judges are placing a priority on children in out-of-home care and understand the importance for the need of a permanent home for these children.

Summary

Many of the cases reviewed by the local CRB's had been adrift for two years or more, thus hindering permanency for these children. Urgency is a key factor to providing services to foster children and their families.

CRB's are important because they assist in resolving cases. Review hearings provide regular judicial oversight of children in foster care. The reviews hold DPHHS accountable and gets the community involved.

One of the most promising options to reduce the burden on an already stressed system, due to limited resources and lack of foster homes, is exploring extended family placements. CRB's continue to collaborate with social workers, permanency planning specialists, the Court Assessment Program, the Casey Family Program and others in the community, in order to become more creative in finding permanent placement for the children in foster care in Montana.

District Court Criminal Reimbursement Program

The District Court Criminal Reimbursement Program (DCCRP), enacted by SB 25 and SB 142 during the regular session of the 1985 Legislature, established an expanded state assumption of certain expenses associated with criminal proceedings in Montana's District Courts.

The DCCRP reimburses counties for certain adult criminal expenses. The Program, as outlined by 3-5-901, MCA, applies to eligible expenses in the following five categories: 1) a percentage of court reporters' salaries; 2) the cost of transcripts of eligible criminal proceedings; 3) psychiatric examinations in criminal proceedings; 4) witness and jury expenses of criminal proceedings; and 5) indigent defense expenses of criminal proceedings.

Program revenues derive from a portion of the motor vehicle license tax.

If a balance remains after all reimbursements are made, that balance must be awarded to counties in the form of a grant. The grant is based on whether the county has expended funds over and above its maximum mill levy set by law for district court expenses.

^{} Applied in FY97, but did not receive a grant.

Boards and Commissions of the Supreme Court

Judicial Nomination Commission

The Judicial Nomination Commission provides the Governor a list of qualified candidates to fill vacancies on the Supreme Court, District Courts and the Workers' Compensation Court. The Commission also provides the Chief Justice a list of candidates for appointment to fill any term or vacancy for the Chief Water Court Judge. The Commission is comprised of seven members; four appointed by the Governor, two appointed by the Supreme Court and one elected by the state's district court judges. Commission members serve four-year terms and are not eligible to apply for judicial office during their terms or for one year thereafter.

Commission on Unauthorized Practice

In 1998, the Commission on Unauthorized Practice was reorganized by order of the Supreme Court. The Commission is now comprised of nine members; five lawyers and four nonlawyers appointed by the Supreme Court to three-year terms. The Commission investigates complaints that a person is practicing law without admission to the Bar. The newly reorganized Commission has also been directed to review the overall situation regarding the unauthorized practice of law in Montana and make recommendations to the Supreme Court which will ameliorate the problems associated with the unauthorized practice of law.

Commission on Courts of Limited Jurisdiction

The Commission on Courts of Limited Jurisdiction oversees mandatory training for judges of limited jurisdiction twice a year, and promotes professionalism, competence, procedural improvements and refinements in courts of limited jurisdiction. The Commission is comprised of practicing attorneys, a district court judge, judges of courts of limited jurisdiction, and a clerk of a limited jurisdiction court. A Justice of the Supreme Court sits as an ex-officio member of the Commission.

Sentence Review Division

Individuals sentenced to a year or more to the Montana State Prison (MSP) or the Montana Women's Prison (MWP) may request a review of the sentence they received in a District Court.

The Sentence Review Division of the Supreme Court is comprised of three District Court Judges appointed by the Supreme Court for three-year terms. The 1998 members were: Honorable William Nels Swandal, Chairman; Honorable Richard Phillips, and Honorable Jeffrey Langton. Retired Judge Robert Boyd serves as an alternate member.

The Division meets four times a year at the Montana State Prison and two times a year at the Montana Women's Prison

The Sentence Review Division heard a total of 116 cases in 1998. Of those cases, 50 were affirmed; 13 were continued; 24 were dismissed; 15 were decreased; 4 were increased; 3 cases were changed from MSP or MWP commitments to Department of Corrections (DOC) commitments; 5 were held in abeyance pending an appeal; and 2 cases were remanded back the district court for clarification of sentence.

Board of Bar Examiners

The Board of Bar Examiners is responsible for examination and licensing of attorneys who wish to practice law in Montana.

Members of the Board are appointed by the Supreme Court. Terms of Board members are permanent; however, the Supreme Court may release, dismiss, or remove any member of the Board and appoint another member in his or her stead at any time.

Members of the Board of Bar Examiners for 1998 were: Gregory G. Murphy, Esq., Chairman; Randy J. Cox, Esq.; Gary W. Bjelland, Esq.; Jacqueline Terrell Lenmark, Esq.; Loren J. O'Toole, II, Esq.; Debra D. Parker, Esq.; and John Jay Richardson, Esq.

In 1998, the Multi-State Bar Examination was given on Wednesday, July 28, followed by a day and a half of essay examination on Thursday, July 29, and Friday, July 30. Ninety-nine applicants sat for the exam, with 88 passing.

Disciplinary Boards and Commissions of the Supreme Court

Commission on Practice

The Commission on Practice was established in 1965 by order of the Montana Supreme Court to review complaints alleging unethical conduct by Montana attorneys. This Commission is also responsible for reporting on merits of any petition for reinstatement to the practice of law.

The Commission is comprised of eleven members. Eight attorney members are appointed by the Supreme Court, following an election by members of the Bar in their respective areas of the State, and the Court also appoints three lay citizens. Members serve a four-year term. Members of the 1998 Commission were: Sam E. Haddon, Esq., Chairman; John Warren, Esq., Vice-Chairman; Gary L. Davis, Esq., Executive Secretary; Gary Buchanan, Patricia DeVries, Bruce A. Fredrickson, Esq., W.A. Groff, Donald R. Marble, Esq., Gary A. Ryder, Esq., John V. Potter, Jr., Esq., and Milton Wordal, Esq.

Judicial Standards Commission

Montana's Judicial Standards Commission was created by amendment to the State Constitution in 1973 to provide for the censure, suspension, or removal of a judicial officer. The Commission is composed of two district court judges elected by the district court judges; one attorney appointed by the Supreme Court; and two members of the public appointed by the Governor.

Members of the 1998 Commission were: Hon. Ed McLean, Chairman; Victor F. Valgenti, Esq., Vice-Chairman; Barbara Evans, Patty Jo Henthorn, and the Hon. John Warner. All members serve a four-year term.

The District Courts

Montanans are served by 56 district courts. These courts are organized within 21 judicial districts and are served by 37 district judges. District Courts are courts of original and appellate jurisdiction. Original jurisdiction incorporates all felony cases, all civil and probate cases, all cases at law and in equity, all misdemeanor and other special actions and proceedings not otherwise provided for, all civil actions that might result in a finding against the State for the payment of money, naturalization proceedings, various writs and some narrowly defined ballot issues. Appellate jurisdiction includes cases arising from the State's Courts of Limited Jurisdiction as prescribed by law and the Constitution.

Information concerning the number and characteristics of 1998 District Court caseloads is presented and discussed below.

The distributions of district court summary statistics have been sorted into quartiles on the basis of increasing number of case filings or dispositions. Quartiles divide a distribution into four groups of equal size. The tables presented contain summary data for all District Courts, for the busiest five courts and for each quartile. Data for the busiest five courts are contained within the fourth quartile data.

The contribution of each quartile and of the busiest five district courts to the 1998 statewide total of case filings by case type, is presented in Table 1. Note the wide disparity in total case filings between quartiles. The quartile of busiest courts (the fourth) accounted for more than 80 percent of all specific case filings statewide, in all but probate and adoption cases. This quartile accounted for nearly 80 percent of total case filings. Further, the busiest five District Courts accounted for at least 50 percent (and occasionally over 60 percent) of all but probate cases among total statewide case filings. Table 2 presents the corresponding distribution of statewide case dispositions. Here again, a wide disparity is evident between quartiles and the five busiest District Courts. The proportions of case filings and case dispositions in 1998 were fairly consistent across case types and court groupings.

The relative proportions of case filings and case dispositions by case type within the total caseloads of all courts, each quartile and the busiest five courts are presented in Tables 3 and 4. Note in both tables that probate cases constitute much higher proportions of the total caseloads of the first and second quartiles than of the third and fourth quartiles and of the busiest five district courts. Conversely, juvenile and domestic relations cases comprise far smaller proportions of the caseloads of the first quartile than the average of all courts and those of the fourth quartile and the five busiest courts. The distributions of filings and dispositions of the remaining case types within the total caseloads of all courts, all quartiles and the five busiest courts are more similar.

Total case dispositions are expressed as a percent of total case filings, by case type, for all courts, each quartile and the five busiest district courts in Table 5. Entries of 100 percent or greater indicate that the courts disposed of more cases than were filed; where the entry is less than 100 percent, case filings outnumbered case dispositions. Generally, case filings exceeded dispositions most notably in paternity and guardianship/conservatorship cases. Filings of juvenile cases also outnumbered dispositions in first and fourth quartile caseloads and in the busiest five district courts. The ratios of dispositions to filings in criminal, civil and domestic relations cases were the most favorable among case types and across all court groupings. Generally, those courts with larger caseloads also had more favorable ratios of case dispositions to case filings. First quartile courts generally had lower such ratios than courts in all other categories.

Courts of Limited Jurisdiction

Courts of Limited Jurisdiction are Justice Courts, City Courts and Municipal Courts. Judges of Justice and Municipal Courts must be elected; City Court judges may be elected or appointed. All judges of these courts serve four-year terms. Justice of the Peace and City Court Judges are not required to be attorneys; Municipal Court Judges must be licensed attorneys. All judges of Courts of Limited Jurisdiction are required to attend two Supreme Court supervised training courses each year.

There were 87 city courts, 70 justice courts, and 4 municipal courts in operation in 1998. Justice and municipal courts have concurrent jurisdiction; municipal courts have exclusive original jurisdiction in local ordinances and other areas formerly served by a city court. Municipal courts also have concurrent jurisdiction with District Courts in matters addressed under Title 70, chapters 24 -27, MCA (residential and commercial landlord/tenant issues and issues of forcible entry and detainer). City courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice courts and exclusive jurisdiction over city ordinances, collection of taxes or assessments in amounts less than $5,000, actions for the recovery of personal property belonging to the city and actions for collection of local license fees (see 3-11-103, MCA).

Information concerning the number and characteristics of 1998 limited jurisdiction court caseloads is presented and discussed below. Tables 10 through 14 present summaries of caseload statistics reported by Montana's Courts of Limited Jurisdiction in calendar year 1998. Not all limited jurisdiction courts provided complete data for this report.

Table 10 Courts of Limited Jurisdiction Summary Statistics 1998

Total Cases Reported: 302,221 Largest Reported Caseload: 22,658 Average of the 10 Smallest Reported Caseloads: 17.9

Criminal	236,015	78.1
Civil	24,832	8.2
Small Claims	2,696	0.9
Speed/Seatbelt	38,678	12.8

The data in Table 10 show that limited jurisdiction courts processed nearly one-third of a million cases in 1998. The vast majority of those cases (78.1 percent of the total) were criminal cases. Small claims cases constituted the smallest proportion (less than one percent of the total) of reported cases. Note the disparity between the largest reported caseload and the average caseload of the ten smallest reporting courts. The state's busiest court processed over 1200 times as many cases as the average caseload of the ten courts reporting the fewest cases.

Reported criminal cases are sorted into general categories in Table 11. Less than two percent of total 1998 reported limited jurisdiction court criminal cases were felonies. Most reported misdemeanor cases fell into the "Other" category. Note that the distribution of case types was different for those courts with the largest and the smallest caseloads, with the largest caseload courts reporting a far greater proportion of city/county ordinance cases. Although MIP and DUI/Per Se cases constituted small proportions of court caseloads, the smallest caseload courts reported relatively higher proportions of such cases than did the largest caseload courts. Similar findings were evident for domestic abuse and transaction with minors cases.

The sources of 1998 criminal cases in courts of limited jurisdiction are identified in Table 12. Note that City Police accounted for more than half of the cases in the courts reporting the largest caseloads, while the Highway Patrol accounted for almost the same proportion of cases in the courts reporting the smallest caseloads. Small caseload courts, typically those in rural areas, reported far higher proportions of cases from Fish, Wildlife and Parks violations than did courts with larger caseloads.

Numbers and categories of 1998 civil cases processed by courts of limited jurisdiction are identified in Table 13, for all courts and for those courts reporting the largest and smallest caseloads. Note that the smallest caseload courts reported far higher proportions of Landlord/Tenant, contract and tort cases than do the largest caseload courts and those courts between the two extremes. The largest caseload courts reported far higher proportions of credit/debt cases and "other" cases than did the smallest caseload courts. Note also that, for most case types, the smallest caseload courts processed an average of less than one civil case a month. Reported case numbers indicate that the vast majority of civil cases are processed by the largest caseload courts. Fifty-seven percent of all reporting limited jurisdiction courts processed Order of Protection cases; fewer than forty percent of all reporting courts processed any other type of civil case and only sixteen percent reported Tort cases in 1998.

Table 14 presents additional data indicating the wide disparity of caseloads among courts of limited jurisdiction. Note that the ten courts with the largest caseloads accounted for nearly half of criminal and total reported cases and nearly three-quarters of all reported civil and small claims cases in 1998.

Tables 15 through 18 present reported caseload statistics for individual courts, arranged by county. Total caseloads and the numbers of general categories of cases for each reporting court are identified in Table 15. Sixty-nine of all limited jurisdiction courts (43 percent) reported caseloads that averaged less than one case per day. Nine courts reported no cases at all. The ten busiest reporting courts averaged about 39 cases a day. Only two of reporting courts had no criminal cases. Sixty-two of the reporting courts had no civil cases in 1998; only 60 reporting courts processed small claims cases.

1998 Annual Report of the Montana Judiciary

Table 16 contains selected categories of the reported 1998 criminal caseloads of individual courts, arranged by county. The following are some highlights from Table 16:

- About 47 percent of reporting courts (75) experienced a felony case in 1998, only four reporting courts processed more than one felony case per day in 1998, and most courts (142) reported fewer than one felony case per week;
- Eighty percent of reporting courts processed DUI/per se caseloads that would average one or fewer cases per week, only two courts reported DUI/per se caseloads that would average more than one such case per day, and nineteen courts reported no cases of this type;
- Twenty-one courts reported no minor in possession (MIP) cases during the year, 120 (74.5 percent) reported one or fewer such cases per week, four courts reported MIP caseloads averaging more than one such case a day, and the busiest averaged 3.7 MIP cases a day;
- The vast majority of courts (149) reported an average of fewer than one domestic abuse case per week, and no court reported a domestic abuse caseload that would have averaged more than one such case per day;
- Only seven courts reported unlawful transaction with a minor caseloads that equaled or exceeded 10 such cases per year; one court reported a maximum of 20 such cases in 1998.

1998 Annual Report of the Montana Judiciary

Civil caseloads for individual courts are presented in Table 18, arranged by general category and by county. Note that most courts reported no or very few civil cases in 1998.

- Thirty-six percent of courts reported any landlord/tenant cases. Only eight of those courts processed as many as one such case a week on average, and none processed an average as large as one per day;
- Only 38 percent of reporting courts processed credit agency debt cases. Only 31 of those courts processed as many as one such case a week on average, and five courts reported an average of at least one such case a day;
- Just over 57 percent of reporting courts processed an order of protection case, but only 15 courts reported an average of at least one such case a week. The busiest court in this respect dealt with an average of less than one such case a day;
- About one-third of reporting courts processed contract cases; 16 percent processed tort cases.
 Only nine courts reported an average of as many as one contract case a week, and none of the courts reported an average tort caseload as large as one a week;
- Unlike most other reported caseloads, the largest civil case counts were not limited to the courts in the largest cities. Several courts from Montana's smaller cities appear in the list of the ten busiest courts in civil cases.

Special Jurisdiction Courts

Water Court

Montana's Water Court was created by the 1979 Legislature in response to concerns that the existing program of water adjudications established under the 1973 Water Use Act, would take one hundred years to complete. The legislature created the Water Court to expedite and facilitate the adjudication of water rights that were in existence in 1973. The Water Court has exclusive jurisdiction to interpret and determine existing water rights.

The four major water divisions are: the Yellowstone River Basin, the Lower Missouri River Basin, the Upper Missouri River Basin, and the Clark Fork River Basin.

The Chief Water Judge serves a four-year term and is appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court from a list of nominees submitted by the Judicial Nomination Commission. Water judges are designated for each of the four water divisions by a majority vote of a committee comprised of the District Judge from each single-judge district and the Chief District Judge from each multiple-judge district.

Funding for the Water Court is derived from special revenue sources which include coal tax money, resource indemnity trust money, and various other sources of bond and income revenues.

The adjudication of federal reserved water rights is suspended until July 1, 2005, while the State of Montana and the federal and tribal authorities negotiate reserved water right compacts. Six compacts have been negotiated and ratified by the Montana Legislature. Of these six, one has been approved by the court, two have pending objections, and the remainder have not yet been submitted for court approval.

Workers' Compensation Court

The Forty-Fourth Legislative Assembly created the Office of the Workers' Compensation Court on July 1, 1975, to provide an efficient and effective forum for the resolution of disputes between insurers/employers and injured workers, and/or workers disabled as a result of an occupational disease. The Court has exclusive jurisdiction over many issues arising under the Workers' Compensation Act, § 39-71-101, MCA, et seq., and the Occupational Disease Act, § 39-72-101, MCA, et seq. It conducts trials in matters over which it has original jurisdiction. The Court is also responsible for the judicial review of final orders appealed from the Department of Labor and Industry under the two Acts. All decisions of the Court are appealable directly to the Montana Supreme Court.

The Workers' Compensation Judge serves a six-year term and is appointed by the Governor from a list of nominees submitted by the Judicial Nomination Commission. The Workers' Compensation Judge must have the same qualifications necessary to hold the office of District Court Judge. The Court is attached to the Department of Labor and Industry for administrative purposes only.

All proceedings and hearings before the court are governed by the appropriate provisions of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act. The Court is bound by common law and the statutory rules of evidence. The rules of the Court can be found in the Administrative Rules of Montana (ARM) at 24.5.301 et seq.

The Workers' Compensation Court conducts pretrials and trials in Billings, Great Falls, Missoula, Butte, Kalispell and Helena four times each year. The Court issues findings of fact, conclusions of law and judgments in those matters which go to trial and issues orders on appeal following a judicial review of appeals from the Department of Labor and Industry.

In fiscal year 1998, the Workers' Compensation Court received 235 petitions/appeals. It conducted 61 trials which varied from matters which required two to three days to those which consisted of a conference with counsel, or an oral argument. There were 12 settlement conferences conducted, with 11 of those matters being resolved. The Judge issued a total of 125 decisions, of which 45 were findings and conclusions, nine were orders on appeal, 52 related to substantive issues and the remainder were attorney fees, costs and other issues which were disposed of by bench ruling or conference with counsel.

Associations of Court Personnel

Montana Judges Association

The Montana Judges Association was established to promote and foster the court system and the laws of the State of Montana; to promote and foster the continued education of judges; and, to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and information useful to judges. Membership of the Association consists of currently serving Supreme Court Justices and District Court Judges. Retired Supreme Court Justices and District Court Judges are included as associate members. The Association meets twice each year. Members receive continuing legal education credits for two seminars presented at the meetings.

Officers of the Montana Judges Association for the term of October 1998 through September 1999 are:

President:John Warner4th Judicial District JudgeVice President:Ted Mizner12th Judicial District JudgeSecretary:Ed McLean3rd Judicial District JudgeTreasurer:Jim RegnierSupreme Court Justice

East Representative: John McKeon
West Representative: Katherine Curtis
Supreme Court Representative: William Hunt

Montana Magistrates Association

The Montana Magistrates Association (MMA) is comprised of the Justices of the Peace, City Court Judges, and Municipal Court Judges in the State. The Association meets annually at the Fall Judicial Education Conference and has district meetings in each district on a regular basis. The MMA works closely with the Supreme Court Commission on Courts of Limited Jurisdiction to ensure that all judges perform their duties in a professional and knowledgeable manner.

1998-1999 Officers of the Montana Magistrates Association are:

President: Johnny Seiffert Red Lodge Western Vice President: Terry J. McGillis Deer Lodge Central Vice President: Marilyn Kober Columbus Broadus Easter Vice President: Peggy Jones Joan A. Eliel Secretary: Dillon Treasurer: Violet M. Schiffer Forsyth Livingston Parliamentarian: Neil M. Travis

Montana Association of Clerks of the District Court

The Montana Association of Clerks of District Court (MACDC) convened in Lewistown on May 14-15, 1965, for an organizational meeting and has met annually since that time. Dillon hosted the 33rd annual convention and school in June of 1998.

The goal of the association is to constantly improve the performance of the clerks through shared knowledge and information.

1998-1999 officers are:

President: Carole Carey Carter County
1st Vice President: Nancy Sweeney
2nd Vice President: Jean Thompson Yellowstone County
Secretary: Peg Allison Flathead County
Treasurer: Emile Kimmet Teton County

State Law Library

The State Law Library, by statute, is to maintain an adequate legal collection and services to fulfill the needs of the Supreme Court, the Legislature, state officers and employees, members of the Bar, and the general public (MCA 22-1-501 et seq.). The Justices of the Montana Supreme Court serve as the Library's Board of Trustees. A small Library Committee works with the Director (the State Law Librarian), to establish appropriate policies. This year, that Committee included Justices Gray, Regnier, and Trieweiler. Supreme Court Administrator, Patrick Chenovick, serves ex officio on the Committee.

This year the Library added an Electronic Services Librarian to the professional staff. She has helped the library with its goal of expanding the walls of its physical presence. The Law Library's Internet outreach expanded considerably this year, with both more content and more links to other legal sites provided. Statewide contracts were negotiated with legal database vendors, which offered very affordable online legal research access to state agency attorneys, district court judges, and county attorneys around Montana.

The more traditional ways of providing information were continued with some increasing. The number of requests for fax transmissions has risen 57 percent over the past four years. Although the number of people physically in the Law Library is still quite high at 18,669 for the year, that number has declined by 15 percent since 1994. This is to be expected, as the staff has been striving to make the Library's resources more available on the customers' desktops. Reference requests answered equaled 3,700. The staff shelved 17,309 books, and filed 7,966 pieces of microfiche. The number of books checked out remains fairly constant, at 4,500 to 5,000 per year.

This year the Law Library initiated and administered a successful new program - the Pro Bono Legal Clinic. A reference librarian serves to coordinate interviews for low-income people in need of assistance with family law matters with state agency attorneys. The Clinic is held in the Law Library, and provides relief to those who cannot afford legal counsel, but have legal needs that are greater than what the Law Librarians can provide.

State Law Librarian, Judy Meadows, served as President of the 5,000-member American Association of Law Libraries in 1998, which provided considerable exposure of Montana's people and extraordinary attributes to many national and international groups. She is pleased to have completed her term of office successfully, and to return her attentions to managing Montana's only complete law library.

State Bar of Montana

The State Bar of Montana was created by order of the Montana Supreme Court in January 1974. In its order, the Court provided that all persons practicing law in the state were obligated to be members of the State Bar. Prior to that date, the State had a voluntary bar association, the Montana Bar Association.

The purposes of the State Bar are to aid the courts in maintaining and improving the administration of justice; to foster, maintain, and require on the part of attorneys, high standards of integrity, learning, competence, public service and conduct; to safeguard proper professional interests of members of the Bar; to encourage the formation and activities of local bar associations; to provide a forum for discussion and effective action concerning subjects pertaining to the practice of law, the science of jurisprudence and law reform, and relations of the Bar to the public; to provide for continuing legal education of members of the Bar; and, to insure that the responsibilities of the legal profession to the public are effectively discharged.

The State Bar is governed by a twenty-member Board of Trustees. Sixteen members of the board are elected by the active members of the Bar to two-year terms from State Bar areas. State Bar areas are made up of one or several judicial districts. The other four Board members are the President and President-Elect, who are elected statewide to one-year terms, the Secretary-Treasurer, who is elected statewide to a two-year term, and the Immediate Past President. The current president of the State Bar is Brent R. Cromley of Billings, Montana.

Major activities and programs of the State Bar include:

- A program of mandatory continuing legal education, requiring active members of the State Bar to secure fifteen hours of continuing legal education each year.
- A lawyers' fund for client protection which makes restitution in cases where an attorney has improperly appropriated client funds. Twenty dollars of each active member's dues are earmarked for this program. From its inception through October 31, 1996, more than $400,000 in restitution has been paid by the fund.

- A lawyer referral service, which allows members of the public to identify a lawyer who can help them with their particular legal problem. The service receives about 5,000 calls and makes approximately 3,500 referrals each year.
- A fee arbitration program to settle fee disputes between an attorney and a client, short of litigation.
- Publication of information pamphlets for the general public on a wide variety of legal subjects, including marriage and divorce, landlord-tenant law, small claims court, rights of clients, will and probate.
- Character and fitness reviews to determine if the applicants for admission to the State Bar possess the necessary traits of character and fitness for the practice of law.
- Provision of direct financial support for legal services to the poor through the Montana Law Foundation.
- A variety of services to its members, including continuing legal education seminars, practice manuals, and ethics opinions.

State Bar membership totaled 3,696 on January 19, 1999. Of this number, 2,759 were in-state members and 937 were out-of-state members. Of the same total, 3,001 were active members, 580 were inactive members, 106 had judicial status, and 9 had veteran status.

Annual dues are $120 for active members and $50 for inactive members. Judicial members do not pay dues while serving on the bench. (These assessments are in addition to the statutorily mandated $25 paid for lawyer license fee.) Dues income constitutes the major source of income to the State Bar. Other revenue sources include income from State Bar continuing legal education programs and the sale of publications.

University of Montana School of Law

The University of Montana School of Law, founded in 1911, is the oldest professional school at the University of Montana. The founding of the Law School was made possible by a gift from the widow of William Wirt Dixon, a well-known and respected Montana lawyer. Mrs. Dixon's gift spurred the Legislature to enact a bill establishing the Department of Law.

From an enrollment of seventeen in the first year of its existence, the School of Law rapidly grew until 1970 when the law faculty voted to cap admission to the first year program at 75 students. Since 1970, the number of applications to the Law School has far exceeded the number of positions available in the first year class. In 1998, four-hundred eight applicants applied for the 75 available positions in the first year class. Only Montana residents are eligible for the first 50 of the 75 seats.

The first female student was admitted to the Law School in 1913; female students now comprise 40 percent of the Law School's student population. Women also make up 35 percent of the faculty.

Minority students accounted for approximately 10 percent of first-year students in 1998. Over one-half of these minority students are Native Americans. The Law School is committed to a strong Indian Law Program. In addition to courses in Indian Law, the Law School has for the last decade operated an Indian Law Clinic as part of its clinical education program. While providing valuable services to the various tribal courts and governments, the Indian Law Clinic provides students with the opportunity to develop knowledge and skills which will prepare them for work on or near Montana's seven Indian reservations.

Although the Law School ranks as one of the smallest American Bar Association approved law schools in the nation, its student population is diverse. The average age of entering law students is twenty-eight, suggesting that many students enter law school after engaging in other careers.
